

Support the Florida Clean Car Rule

Fuel Efficient Vehicles Will Help Reduce Climate Change Impacts

The Florida Environmental Regulation Commission (ERC) is scheduled to vote on October 29 in Tallahassee on whether to establish vehicle emissions standards for cars and light trucks similar to those adopted by the State of California.

Audubon is supporting a robust clean car rule to effectively reduce the emissions of greenhouse gases, which are a principal driver of global warming and its impacts in Florida.

In 2007, Governor Charlie Crist called for the Florida standards in Executive Order 07-127. The proposed Florida rule 62-285.400 adopts the California Motor Vehicle Emission Standards pursuant to s. 177 of the federal Clean Air Act but provides some differences in how the rule is implemented

If approved by the ERC, the rule must be ratified by the Florida Legislature according to a provision of the Energy Bill, HB 7135, passed into law earlier this year. Given the short time to complete the rule-making process, if the ERC does not vote to approve the rule next week, Florida will not have a strategy to reduce greenhouse gas emissions from cars and light trucks and this is serious considering that transportation accounts for 36 percent of Florida's greenhouse gas emissions.

Join Audubon in calling on the Florida Environmental Regulation Commission to support strong a clean car rule. Sign the petition below.

vote in favor of Florida adoption of the proposed California Motor Vehicle Emissions Standards in Rule 62-285.400. By adopting and approving this rule, Florida will significantly reduce its emissions of global warming pollution. The rule will also result in more fuel efficient vehicles and significant savings for Floridians.
